From: Saalo Sparkes
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 12/12/01 10:17am
Subject: MS Antitrust

Hi there,

I'll brief. The problem with Microwuss[soft] is that they know a good thing when they see it. And, because it'a better than anything they could think of they try to rubbish it.

Take Win XP, for example, it looks nice and it's easy to use, but it need large computer resources (200Mhz Processor, 128MB Ram, etc) which most people don't have. OK, that's good for me 'cos it means I can sell those people upgades, but you don't want to buy a new OS only to find it won't work.

If I had my way I'd encourage my customers to use Linux systems mainly due to the fact it has Open Source - it's the best thing that happened to OS's.

What more can people want?

Yours Saalo Sparkes, 9th Dimension IT